OUR MISSION

Biletnikoff Foundation's mission is to commemorate Tracey Biletnikoff's life and her untimely death and to enable young people to realize their full potential through the support of community and education programs that effectively address the related problems of substance abuse, domestic violence, and human trafficking.

In 2000, the Foundation launched Tracey's Place of Hope, supported by the Women's Recovery Association in Burlingame, CA, a residential program for adolescent girls in crisis with mental health, substance abuse, and human trafficking. The second Tracey's Place of Hope, supported by Koinonia Homes for Teens in Loomis, CA, was established in 2014 to manage recovery, mental, and emotional health issues, and teach teens the necessary skills to live independently. The Biletnikoff Center of Hope, supported by Koinonia Homes for Teens in Loomis, CA, was established in 2023 as a counseling and activity center for teens. The Center helps turn tragedy into daily miracles.

The Foundation's current focus is building the Healing Center supported by St. Judes Ranch for Children, the first of its kind. A new 10-acre campus with specialized residential services to help child victims of sex trafficking, ages 10-18, with a holistic array of services, including an on-site school, yoga, gardening, art therapy, psychotherapy, and other services to support a young person transitioning from victim to survivor to a thriving young person. All services will be trauma-informed.

The Biletnikoff Foundation has been able to expand the program and help even more teens turn their lives around from drug addiction, trafficking, and violence. Most of our teens come to Tracey's Place of Hope with little or no vision for their future but flourish when given the opportunity.
